

Anthropology of Gender Colloquium Series 2012

Sameena Mulla

Department of Social and Cultural Sciences
Marquette University

speaks on

“The Hand of God”: DNA and Victim Subjectivity in Sexual Assault Intervention

January 23, 2012

11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

HAH 202 (Anthropology seminar room)

2110 G Street, NW

SAMEENA MULLA (Ph.D. Johns Hopkins 2008) studies the anthropology of sexual assault intervention, e-harassment and domestic violence injunctions, and the use of forensic evidence in the courts. One of her recent publications is “Facing Victims: Forensics, Visual Technologies and Sexual Assault Examination,” Medical Anthropology, 30(3): 271-294.